This product is based on around 20 years of research in Astrology. We provide highest quality astrology software after thorough research. We would like to clarify certain points. The most important point is about planets in house. Suppose, for a native, the Ascendant is Aries and Mars in Taurus, it is assumed by astrologers that Mars is in second house. However, depending upon the table of houses, Mars may be in first house or second house or third house. So, we request astrologers to refer to "Bhava Chalit Chart" or "Table of Houses" or "Bhava Chakra". The same is applicable to Bhava Lord.

NATURAL BENEFIC AND MALEFIC PLANETS

As per Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra: Sun, Saturn, Mars and Waning Moon are malefic planets while the rest are benefics. Mercury, however, is a malefic if he joins a malefic.

There are different opinions about Waning Moon. Some considers decreasing Moon as Waning Moon while others considers Waning Moon when it is within 90 degree of Sun. We have taken the second view. So, from this method, we take Moon as benefic if its distance from Sun is more than 90 degree (or When Moon-Sun is between 90 degree and 270 degree or when tithi is between 7.5 and 22.5)

As far as Mercury is concerned, Brihat Parasara Hora Sastra clearly indicates that Mercury is malefic if it is associated with a malefic planet, otherwise it is Benefic Planet.

BENEFIC AND MALEFIC PLANETS BASED ON THE LORDSHIP OF BHAVA

To judge, a planet as benefic, neutral or malefic based on its lordship of an house, the following rules should be taken into account:

- (1) The lord of a trine (First, Fifth and Ninth house) will be always benefic.
- (2) The lord of kendra (Fourth, Seventh and Tenth house) will be benefic if it is a natural malefic. However, it will be malefic if it a natural benefic.
- (3) The lord of third, sixth and eleventh house will be malefic.
- (4) The lord of second, eighth and twelfth house will be neutral.

Note - The eighth lord is supposed to be malefic as per various sages. However, we assume here that eighth lord is neutral.
